Asset Allocation Funds¹

Retirement Date Funds - The funds seek to provide for retirement outcomes consistent with investor preferences throughout the savings and drawdown phase based on quantitatively measured risk that investors, on average, may be willing to accept. The funds will be diversified across global asset classes, with allocations changing over the investment horizon to become more heavily oriented toward debt and debt-like securities, on the premise that individuals investing for retirement desire to reduce investment risk in their retirement accounts as their retirement date approaches. The date in the name of the target date fund is the assumed date of retirement. The principal value of the fund is never guaranteed

Bond Funds²

U.S. Bond Index Fund³ - The objective of the U.S. Bond Index Fund is to track the performance of the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Index. The Fund will principally invest in a combination of other affiliated bank collective funds, equity securities, and derivatives, including common stock of foreign companies, depository receipts, financial futures, and over-the-counter derivatives that represent developed and emerging market equity securities.

This method limits the need for rebalancing and substantially reduces transaction costs relative to other indexing methods.

Mid-Sized Company Stock Funds⁸

U.S. Small/Mid Company Stock Index Fund⁶ - The U.S. Small/Mid Company Stock Index Fund seeks to match the performance and overall characteristics of the Dow Jones U.S. Completion Total Stock Market IndexSM in a risk-controlled, cost-effective manner.
